P1 ~ Charting in the New EMR Environment: Key Sharing for Holistic Care

Rod Accardi, DMin, BCC
Director of Spiritual Care Resources
Northwest Medical Central DuPage Hospital
Winfield, IL

Karen Pugliese, MA, BCC
Advanced Practice Chaplain
Northwest Medical Central DuPage Hospital
Winfield, IL

The chaplain's charting has taken on ever increasing importance in the new health care environment that emphasizes holistic, patient-centered care and high communication among the team of providers. What a chaplain contributes will affect how the patient is viewed and how the patient's values and preferences are respected. This workshop will provide an opportunity for chaplains to examine more closely and sharing their charting practices, and walk away with their own charting improvement plan.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:

1. Explore the importance of chaplain charting in the EMR and IDT environment;
2. Capture in clear, concise language key points providing the holistic perspective of patient;
3. Provide some helpful guidelines in improving one's own charting practices.

P2 ~ Seasons of Grief and Hope: A Reflective Journey Through Art

Monique Cerundolo, MA, BCC
Staff Chaplain
Brigham and Women's Hospital
Boston, MA

The complex journey of grief and hope is explored through diverse spiritual resources, art and expressive modalities. The changing of seasons of grief is illustrated through original poetry and pictorial quilt miniatures of nature, and biblical verses. This program includes reflection, sharing, and interactive participation. It addresses the importance of an emotional process often dismissed in our society, while promoting understanding and compassion.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:

1. Explore grief process in a safe community through a visual, poetic and spiritual journey/ exhibit;
2. Explore the use of art, poetry and rituals as tools for grief and bereavement ministry as well as for personal expression of grief feelings;
3. Integrate experience and tools to their individual ministry style.
P3 ~ Navigating Burnout and Fostering Resilience with Mind/Body Skills

Tina Lightner-Morris, DMin, LCPC, BCC
Pastoral Psychotherapist, Health Coach, Chaplain
LightBalance Integrative Mental Health Ministries
Gaithersburg, MD

We are wired to be resilient - to navigate the stress and trauma of the high demands of ministry. But it is a spiritual practice to help our body, mind, and spirit integrate the daily demands of the work. The field of trauma recovery has plenty of research now to show what strategies help us to be more resilient. We know that micro-moments of love and connection with ourselves, others, and God can facilitate greater joy and post-traumatic growth. The ways we de-stress are surprisingly fun and delightful! Come dance, sing, color, eat, and connect with your colleagues and remember your joy of being.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Learn to help associates reflect on their work in ministry by practicing skills to navigate burn-out;
2. Consider how to foster resilience and improve processes of spiritual care for self and others;
3. Reflect upon and deepen one's call to ministry by examining stress and trauma resolution by engaging the whole person through creative and interactive mind/body skills.

P4 ~ Song of the Soul: A Multi-Cultural Approach for Ministry of Live Music in Professional Chaplaincy

Jesse Paledofsky, MDiv, BCC
Staff Chaplain
Holy Cross Hospice
Silver Spring, MD

Rev. Cheryl Jones, MDiv, BCC
Staff Chaplain
Dept. of Veterans Affairs Medical Center
Cheverly, MD

Topics include musical anointing, musical multicultural screening, neuro-scientific data about sound, differentiating the chaplain’s use of music from other healing modalities and how we apply ethical standards in our use of live music within a healthcare system. Mini-didactics, experiential exercises, case study vignettes and sound-bites will be used as we explore ways to bring the essence of the sacred into professional chaplaincy through live music. Please come prepared to sing and prepared to share from your own experience!

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain knowledge about how to effectively integrate live music in professional healthcare chaplaincy;
2. Receive training to enrich musical, multicultural, multifaith and end of life resources and skills;
3. Learn ethical standards which promote the mindful practice of pastoral care through live music.
P5 ~ Developing Leadership Gifts

John Reid, MDiv, MA
Managing Partner
The Reid Group
Seattle, WA

Maureen Gallagher, PhD
Senior Consultant
The Reid Group
Milwaukee, WI

This workshop will focus on the gifts related to leadership and management in the area of mission and spiritual care including but not limited to: leadership vision, managing one's self and others for the success of the mission; understanding the organizational, working in an inter-disciplinary environment, budgeting, communications and public relations.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain greater understanding about the skills, knowledge and abilities needed to successfully lead and manage a department focusing on the mission and healing ministry of Jesus;
2. Assess their current gifts related to leadership and management;
3. Have ideas about how to increase their leadership and management competencies.
N1 ~ Certification with the NACC

Linda A. Bronersky, MPS, BCC-S
NACC Certification Commissioner

Judith A. Shemkovitz, LPC, BCC
NACC Certification Commission Chair

The NACC Certification Commission offers an overview of the NACC certification process. We will take this opportunity to present key information about certification and to answer your questions about certification.

N2 ~ Renewal of Certification with the NACC

Dr. Linda M. Arnold, BCC
NACC Certification Commissioner

Dr. Jane W. Smith, BCC
NACC Certification Commissioner

The NACC Certification Commission offers an overview of the NACC renewal of certification process. The process has been updated in order to give our members more opportunities for continuing education as well as clearer guidelines and forms. Join us for an update and answers to your questions about renewal of certification.

N3 ~ Answering the Call to Certification Interviewing

Mary D. Davis, MTS, BCC-S
NACC Certification Commissioner

Mrs. Carolanne B. Hauck, MA, BCC
NACC Lead Interview Team Educator

This workshop provides participants the opportunity to explore the ministry of certification interviewing with an emphasis on discernment of ones gifts for interviewing. Discover the overarching vision of the certification process and learn how the process can provide spiritual growth you in your present ministry. An overview of the NACC Standards will be addressed as well as practical matters to facilitate your discernment.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Discover the sacredness of the ministry of certification;
2. Explore and discern one’s giftedness for this sacred ministry;
3. Consider how the ministry of interviewing positively enhances one's current ministry.
N4 ~ Experienced Certification Interviewers Support Group

Dr. Matthias J. Merges, BCC
NACC Interview Team Educator

This workshop provides spiritual and practical support for experienced and prospective certification interviewers through interactive discussion and presentation. Participants will share their spiritual experiences as an interviewer. Practical issues related to the overall process, document construction, and interactions with the applicant or team members will be raised. Participants will discuss the spirituality of these issues using their acquired wisdom. Multiple examples of "good" and "not so good" PRP documents are examined including comments from the certification commission. Prospective interviewers learn from these experience-based discussions.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Explore the spirituality and ministerial experience of certification interviewing;
2. Share details of what to embrace, avoid and emphasize during the interview process;
3. Examine quality aspects of the certification interview documents.

N5 ~ The NACC and You: Bringing Your Gifts to Leadership

David A. Lichter, D.Min.
NACC Executive Director

Join members of NACC leadership to learn about the diverse opportunities to support and advance the NACC’s mission and vision. This interactive exchange will allow time for you to reflect upon and discern where and how you might be able to offer your gifts in service of your fellow members and the profession of chaplaincy.
75 Minute Workshops
Saturday, March 7, 2015 – 8:30 a.m. – 9:45 a.m.

Registration Fee: Included with Early Bird, Full, Student, or Daily Conference Registration

SA1 ~ Pastoral Care in a High Tech/Low Touch World

Paul Anderson, MDiv
Director
Celebrations of Life by Forté Events
Colorado Springs, CO

The past 50 years have brought amazing technological advances. This workshop will address how technology is used and has increasingly become the primary means by which people communicate. While it has put us more "in contact" with each other it has not always served to establish relationships that are mutually close, personal, and meaningful. It is these relationships that have the depth to support one another in times of great crises and personal loss. We will look at how to use technology to enhance our pastoral goals keeping our communication and or relationships "high tech/high touch."

As a result of this workshop, participants will:

1. Learn how to effectively use technology to provide support in crises and end of life settings for geographically separated family members;
2. Discover strengths and weaknesses of technology when used to bring spiritual care to those navigating the stages of grief;
3. Explore the value of technology that improves the quality of pastoral care and finding commonality in corporate and ministry goals.

SA2 ~ The Gift of the Magi – Chaplains on a Journey

Deacon Jack Conrad, MAR, MBA, BCC, CMC
Manager of Faith and Healing
Le Bonheur Children's Hospital
Germantown, TN

This interactive and reflective program will use the story of the Gospel of Matthew and the gifts of the Magi to the Christ Child, to help us consider of the gifts that Chaplains bring to the Christ we see in all our patients. Built off the theology of the "gifts" of the Magi, we will broaden our awareness of who we are as Chaplains and what we can do to further and deepen a sense of giftedness in others.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:

1. Deepen an understanding of the gifts that we bring to those that we serve;
2. Gain a greater appreciation for the Gifts that we have been given in our ministry and training as Chaplains and Caregivers;
3. Deepen a commitment to those newer to chaplaincy and ministry to provide them with knowledge of their own gifts.
SA3 ~ Walking Towards Hope: Exploring Nontraditional Grief Support

Allison DeLaney, MA, BCC
Chaplain and Bereavement Coordinator
Hospice House and Support Care of Williamsburg
Williamsburg, VA

The traditional “sit and talk for an hour” grief support group works for some, but not for others. This workshop features a case study of non-traditional walking/social bereavement group in Williamsburg, VA that has grown rapidly in its 5 year existence. This will be a spring board to evaluate and discuss different types of grief support and when they are most appropriate. Participants will be invited to share their own experiences and grief support resources to enhance the communal “toolbox”.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to critique the advantages and disadvantages of various types of grief support groups;
2. Be familiar with models of bereavement progression;
3. Learn about new grief resources.

SA4 ~ Honoring Gifts: Being a Gifted Supervisor of Volunteers & Staff

Maureen Gallagher, PhD
Senior Consultant
The Reid Group
Waukesha, WI

This workshop is based on recognizing the gifts of all who work in the healing ministry of Jesus and the spirituality embedded in it, as well as practical aspects of supervision. It will include a holistic view of supervision in connection of working with individuals and families. The workshop will focus on such things as clear expectations, available resources, communication, positive reinforcement; a team approach to supervision and improvement practices.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to supervise from the perspective of helping all recognize their gifts in relationship to the mission;
2. Gain insights into how to oversee or supervise through team building (could be interdisciplinary teams) and moving toward achieving the common good;
3. Work toward achieving practical and measurable individual and team goals related to living out the mission.
SA5 ~ Capturing the Soul: Cultivating the Art of Narrative in Spiritual Care Notes

Gordon J. Hilsman, DMin, BCC-S
Interim CPE Supervisor
Massachusetts General Hospital
Boston, MA

Anne M. Butler, MSN, ANP-BC, CHPN
Palliative Medicine Nurse Practitioner
George Washington University,
Washington DC

Cultivating the art of narrative in writing spiritual care notes bears witness to the core of our humanity (both the patient and the provider), offers the practice of medicine a renewed focus and extends to each of us an authentic invitation to become wounded healers in theory and practice. This workshop will highlight the growing use of narrative in professional practice, draw wisdom from the individual practice experiences of a nurse practitioner (medicine) and a chaplain (spirituality) and invite participants’ into an exercise to improve their appreciation and skillful integration of narrative in chaplain charting.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Define the scope & practice of narrative medicine and it's emerging role in today's healthcare culture.
2. Improve their writing of substantive and useful chart notes.

SA6 ~ One-Mile Sabbaticals: Walking with the Lord

Luke J. Larson, MA, BCC
Vice President, Mission Integration
Catholic Health Initiatives
Fargo, ND

Would you like to take a walk? This workshop is intended to inspire you to walk as a way of companioning Jesus, whether your walks lap around a mall, circle a neighborhood, or traverse a medieval pilgrimage route. More than anything else, this workshop invites you to step off the treadmill of self-effort in your quest to experience God more intimately and to simply walk - effortlessly, unselfconsciously - in the company of Jesus. Participants can learn about Keeping Company Walks at www.lukejlarson.com and by looking at presenter's video at: http://youtu.be/53Esz66bt8Q.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain an appreciation of the ancient spiritual practice of walking as a way of companioning Jesus and others, of both heaven and earth.
2. Reflect on their own experience of unselfconscious, prayerful walking.
3. Learn about a spiritual resource for those in their care.
SA7 ~ Honoring Our Early Pioneers

Betty Skonieczny, MA, BCC
Aurora, IL

The history of the NACC and the early pioneers will be told from the perspective of one of the early pioneering women. We owe gratitude to Bishop Joseph Brunini, Msgr. Harrold Murray, Rev. Dick Tessmer, Rev. Tim Toohey, Sister Rose Carmel McKenna SCL, Sister Cyrilla Zarek OP, Florence Flynn Smithe, and Betty Skonieczny of our association for their deep faith, courage, and ability to bring into reality the directives of Vatican II. These stories will inspire participants and honor the contributions of early pioneers.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain an appreciation for the rich history of the National Association of Catholic Chaplains;
2. Be inspired by stories of the origination of the association;
3. Understand the challenges faced by the early “pioneers” and relate these to current challenges in our ministries.

SA8 ~ A Dummies Guide to Reading a Research Article: Reading a Research Article Can Be Fun

Deacon Roger Vandervest, MAPS, BCC
Staff Chaplain
Rush University Medical Center
Oak Park, IL

Patricia E. Murphy, RSCJ, PhD, BCC
Chaplain and Associate Professor
Rush University Medical Center
Oak Park, IL

Prior to the workshop participants will be expected to read a simple research article which will be provided. In the workshop we will review the main components of the article and provide background about the methods and statistics employed in the research article. We will critically review the research article's findings and discuss their implications for chaplaincy practice. A study guideline for reading a research article will also be provided.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Learn how to identify the main components of a research article;
2. Learn how to identify the strengths and weaknesses of a research article;
3. Learn how to critically integrate research findings into chaplaincy practice.
75 Minute Workshops
Saturday, March 7, 2015 – 2:00 p.m. – 3:15 p.m.

Registration Fee: Included with Early Bird, Full, Student, or Daily Conference Registration

SA9 ~ The Team Well-Being Measure©: Assessing and Intervening for Employee Emotional and Spiritual Wellness

Nancy Cook, MDiv, MSW, BCC
Regional Director of Spiritual Care & Volunteer Services
CHRISTUS Health
Beaumont, TX

The Team Well-Being Measure© (TWBM) creates a venue for teams to reflect, discern, and discuss their functioning effectiveness identifying barriers to continued growth and areas of strength and excellence. Participants in the TWBM more clearly identify their role in fostering and maintaining overall team wellness thus leading to greater effectiveness and improved patient satisfaction.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Learn how to facilitate employee engagement in individual and team self-assessment;
2. Discover how to investigate and assess unspoken issues within a team that prevent fuller success;
3. Understand strategies to help employees see their role in fostering and maintaining overall team wellness.

SA10 ~ CPE Supervisors: Timely Topics

Dr. John L. Gillman, BCC-S
ACPE Supervisor
VITAS Innovative Hospice Care
San Diego, CA

Dr. Mary T. O’Neill, BCC-S
Vice-President for Spiritual Care and Pastoral Education
Catholic Health Services
Melville, NY

Sr. Barbara Brumleve, SSND, PhD, BCC-S
CPE Supervisor
St. Vincent Health/Department of Pastoral Care
Indianapolis, IN

This workshop is designed as an open seminar for CPE Supervisors and those interested in CPE programs to explore key CPE topics, including learning from those who have initiated distance learning modes of supervision, and exploring ways to introduce the newly revised NACC standards to help prepare Roman Catholic students for NACC board certification.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Become acquainted with innovations in distance learning models;
2. Share ways to integrate the revised NACC Standards for Certification into CPE programs;
3. Develop shared resources and best practices.
SA11 ~ Discovering Your Leadership Impact

Bonnie McCulley, LPC, DMin Candidate, BCC
Director of Spiritual Care
Dignity Health – Arizona Market
Phoenix, AZ

Being a leader is not about title, power of position, or how many followers you have. Whether you hold a leadership position, see yourself as a leader or not, you are having an impact. As professional chaplains, we have a responsibility to notice our impact, and then to adjust one’s leadership style and influence as needed. What does it take to be an impactful leader? It comes down to three critical areas: values, mindset, and empowerment.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Identify and embrace their preferred leadership style so they are playing to their strengths;
2. Adopt a leadership mindset that positively affects behaviors and outcomes, and therefore, one’s impact;
3. Combine style with preference in order to empower and achieve desired results.

SA12 ~ Meaning in Life for the Spiritual/Religious and Those Who are Neither

Patricia E. Murphy, RSCJ, PhD, BCC
Chaplain and Associate Professor
Rush University Medical Center
Oak Park, IL

“In some ways suffering ceases to be suffering at the moment it finds a meaning…” Victor Frankl. Religion/spirituality provides meaning for many patients and our role is to listen and witness. For some, illness challenges past religious/spiritual beliefs and we accompany and guide this struggle. Research finds that many people in this country do not identify with religion/spirituality. How do we provide care that might help them on the way to making their own meaning when loss of health or impending death interfere with their past sense of meaning? This workshop will use both research and experience from participants to describe some clinical tools.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Describe aspects of religion/spirituality that provide meaning in life;
2. Identify possible ways of meaning making for those who do not identify themselves as religious or spiritual;
3. Articulate evidence from at least two diagnostic groups that meaning is related to quality of life.
SA13 ~ Particularity: A Characteristic of Spiritual Care Individualized for the Patient

Jennifer W. Paquette, DMin, BCC
Director, Mission Services
St. Joseph’s Hospitals
Tampa, FL

Increasingly, the clinical world is able to target healing therapies at the individual level. For example, a predisposition to specific diseases can be identified within the genetic code of family members; a patient’s own stem cells can be used for targeted treatments. How can spiritual care complement this exactitude and become increasingly collaborative with the healing team?

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Illustrate a framework for individualized spiritual care that supports other healing modalities;
2. Gain an appreciation of applied spiritual care protocols pertinent to the chaplain’s setting;
3. Develop capacity for new ways of providing spiritual care for the patient.

SA14 ~ Discovering Our Gifts Through Change and Transition

John Reid, MDiv
Founder and Senior Consultant
The Reid Group
Seattle, WA

Leaders in chaplaincy ministry will be given an opportunity to reflect on the many "change" realities, issues and challenges they deal with and focus on the reality of change and transitions and the skills required to lessen resistance. Participants will learn how to transform the challenges of change into opportunities to discover new gifts, new learnings, and new life.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain new understandings about dealing with change and the gifts embedded in transitions that are part of life's journey;
2. Have new or renewed insights regarding why people resist change;
3. Enhance their knowledge of the skills needed for thriving in the midst of change.
SA15 ~ Electronic Medical Records and Quality Measures for Chaplains: What Are We Learning?

Timothy G. Serban, MA, BCC
Chief, Mission Integration Office
Providence Health & Service
Portland, OR

Mark A. Skaja, MDiv, BCC
Vice-President, Mission Integration/Spiritual Care
Mercy Health
Cincinnati, OH

Sr. Marie Parker, RSM, MEd, MA
Director, Mission Services
Catholic Health East
Newtown Square, PA

Chaplains have been involved in the design and implementation of the spiritual care components of their EPIC and Cerner EMR's. How can we examine and demonstrate the "quality" question of spiritual assessments and charting, and better understand the value and effectiveness of our use of the EMR's? This workshop will explore these questions as it shares the work of the Quality Subcommittee of the CHA Pastoral Care Advisory Committee.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Receive an overview of the PCAC's Subcommittee on Quality's initiative to identify quality measures related to EMR's, particularly with EPIC and Cerner;
2. Learn about findings from a comparison of several EMR spiritual assessment models;
3. Gain an appreciation of potential approaches to developing quality measures based on EMR data.

SA16 ~ Mindfulness Meditation as a Pathway to Wholeness

Sister Mary Joan Smith, MA, BCC
Manager of Spiritual Care
Mercy Philadelphia Hospital
Philadelphia, PA

As we provide healing and a comforting presence in our chaplain ministry, it is important that we employ methods of self-care. Mindfulness Meditation is a very effective practice to strengthen our ability to remain grounded and to nourish inner peace. This workshop includes an explanation of the technique of Mindfulness Meditation, two brief periods of Mindfulness Meditation, and conversation about the experience, reflecting on how Mindfulness Meditation can be utilized personally and in our ministry.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to identify signs of compassion fatigue;
2. Understand the process of Mindfulness Meditation;
3. Experience the benefits of Mindfulness Meditation.
SU1 ~ The Gift of Spiritual Leadership in Creating a Safe Workplace Environment

Susan Crowley, MA, BCC
Chaplain
Golisano Children’s Hospital of Southwest Florida
Fort Myers, FL

This presentation will focus on special gifts chaplains have in advocating within an organization using their unique skills, bringing to the forefront issues of workplace violence. Consistent with the NACC Essential Functions of the Board Certified Chaplain, an interdisciplinary collaborative project was undertaken to enhance the culture of safety within a healthcare system. Participants will learn about how having chaplaincy leadership in an advocacy project brought an increased awareness of the integral professional abilities chaplains bring to the healthcare system beyond bedside ministry.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Reflect on the various gifts and functions of ministry that the chaplain brings to an organization;
2. Describe the steps in the development of an effective violence prevention program;
3. Discuss how the chaplain can be an integral part of an organization, including performance improvement.

SU2 ~ Native American Flute as a Meditative Tool

Janalea Hoffman, BM, MA
Director of Music Therapy
Shawnee Mission Medical Center
Overland Park, KS

The native flute is a very soulful instrument and easy to play. The beautiful haunting sound is great for facilitating an inward experience. In this experiential workshop you will learn how to create native style music from the heart. Everyone will have a flute to play (utilizing a plastic tube for sanitary reasons). No prior musical training needed! You will learn how to use this instrument to enhance your own meditation life, as well as, how to use it at the bedside.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to demonstrate a simple meditative melody on the flute;
2. Be able to demonstrate the 5 note Native American scale;
3. Be able to list 3 therapeutic applications of this instrument.
SU3 ~ Making the Case for Chaplaincy in Our Current Service Environments

David A. Lichter, DMin
Executive Director
National Association of Catholic Chaplains
Milwaukee, WI

In the midst of the changing landscape of our professional service environments, we are challenged to rethink, re-envision, and make the case for spiritual care. This workshop will be devoted to thinking together about the changing health care environment, its impact on spiritual care, and ways we need to approach making the case for our spiritual care profession. This workshop will involve a combination of presentation, group exchange, and practice/sharing approaches

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Gain an understanding of the alignment of spiritual care to health care reform;
2. Explore ways to approach administration's concerns;
3. Develop and practice how they would make the case for spiritual care.

SU4 ~ Integrating Everyday Change and Loss: Learning to Go With the Flow

Charles W. Sidoti, BA, BCC
Coordinator, Spiritual Care
Cleveland Clinic
Warrensville Heights, OH

Constant change and loss is a part of life. This presentation explores strategies that help change our view of life from a “fearful bracing against the future” to having a more hopeful and trusting outlook. The basic pattern to the universe -- life, death and rebirth -- is discussed. This presentation explores how God is both the source and destination of this pattern and ways we can learn to “enter in” and go with the flow.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Learn about the basic pattern of the universe (life, death, rebirth) and its relationship to our ability to trust and spiritual growth;
2. Learn how to articulate how the concept of "integrating our losses" is a better concept than "getting over our losses;"
3. Develop skills with methods of "creating a sacred space," “the gift of significance," and "having an unconditional positive regard" in ministering to others.
SU5 ~ When Woundedness Heals: Reclaiming the Soul of Caregiving

Edward M. Smink, PhD, BCC
Soul of the Wounded Healer
Atascadero, CA

Each day the chaplain encounters the woundedness of those who suffer. Holding woundedness, having the capacity to live in the tension of the unknown, and waiting for insight and transformation, are unique gifts the chaplain brings to ministry. A reclaiming of these gifts is at the soul of caregiving, where wound meets wound, and as the archetype of the wounded healer, modeled after the example of Christ, becomes a transformative process for both caregiver and to those he or she serves.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Recognize how the gift of woundedness leads to personal healing and transformation;
2. Reclaim and celebrate the unique gift the chaplain offers as a member of the healthcare team;
3. Be able to integrate the archetype of the wounded healer into their practice of ministry.

SU6 ~ Mary’s Mantle for Chaplains

JoAnn Thiele, MA, BCC
Chaplain, Dayton Sail & Power Squadron
Dayton, OH

This interactive session is designed to refresh chaplains with the love of "Mary's Mantle" in their chaplaincy. Mary's story will be presented by prayers, scriptures, guided imagery, and Marian Catholic teaching. Once refreshed the chaplain will explore how to tell Mary's story as encouraged by Pope Francis in his exhortation, "The Joy of the Gospel." Session will draw upon the instruction of popular Marian scholars Fr Bertrand Buby, SM and Fr. Johann Roten, SM.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Become more aware of Mary in one's personal life;
2. Learn methods of bringing Mary to their Chaplaincy;
3. Gain an understanding of Mariology History.
SU7 ~ The City of Hope Multidisciplinary Care Team Experience: Caring for Patients Undergoing Bone Marrow Transplantation

Okey Jude Uche, CSSp, MA, BCC
Chaplain
City of Hope Medical Center
Duarte, CA

Joseph C. Alvarnas, MD
Director for Medical Quality and Associate Professor
City of Hope Medical Center
Duarte, CA

Patients with advanced blood cancers require intensive therapy in. Treatment is associated with significant physical, emotional and spiritual challenges. The City of Hope is a national leader in the care of these patients. The multidisciplinary Supportive Care team plays an essential role in managing these patients successfully. This workshop will review the successful physical, emotional, spiritual and religious support of this patient population. The workshop will include cutting-edge research data and a focus on the unique contribution of the chaplain.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Understand why patients with advanced hematological diseases experience unique physical, emotional and spiritual challenges;
2. Understand the indications, biology and scientific basis for bone marrow and hematopoietic cell transplantation;
3. Understand how the City of Hope multidisciplinary care team has developed a multidimensional person-centered model for supporting patients effectively through this intensive care experience.

SU8 ~ Responding to Moral Distress: Applying Research to Our Ministry of Staff

Marilyn Williams, MSHHA, MTS, BCC
Director of Spiritual Care
Franciscan St. Francis Health Indianapolis
Indianapolis, IN

This workshop will be of value to those with a general interest in how to review the research literature for application to pastoral ministry as well as those specifically interested in the issue of moral distress in healthcare professionals. In addition to describing how the literature defines moral distress, participants will have the opportunity to explore the application of research regarding its causes, impact, and potential implications. Participants will focus on how useful research can support their ministry to staff.

As a result of this workshop, participants will:
1. Be able to identify and discuss research findings in defining moral distress, root causes for such distress, its biological, psychological, and stress-related impact, and potential interventions.
2. Be able to apply research in ministering to staff experiencing moral distress.
3. Learn how to review research literature to identify findings applicable to other areas of ministry.
