

Mental Health challenges in our communities are intensifying. How can we work together more effectively to enhance treatment of mind, body and spirit?

Spiritual Care and Mental Health

Providence Health Care/Providence Auditorium
Spokane, Washington

October 28th, 2016 8:00 – Noon, 2:00 – 4:00

Up to 5 hours CME 1 available

All are welcome

Join us for a day of education with Jason A. Nieuwsma, PhD

Dr. Nieuwsma is a clinical psychologist at the Veterans Affairs (VA) Mid-Atlantic Mental Illness Research, Education and Clinical Center (MIRECC) in Durham, North Carolina, Associate Director for the national VA Mental Health and Chaplaincy Program, and Associate Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Duke University Medical Center.

Registration:

<http://washington.providence.org/events/phc/professional-education/spiritual-care-conference/>

Morning Session: $35.00

Afternoon Session: $25.00

All Day: $55.00 (save $5.00)

The afternoon session is designed to stand alone as well as complement the morning session—come to either or both.

For more information: Julianne Dickelman, Chaplain Educator, 509-474-2303, julianne.dickelman@providence.org

Objectives: Participants will

- Explain rationale for integrating professional spiritual care services with mental health services and become familiar with selected relevant literature.
- Describe the commonalities and differences between the professional identities of chaplains and mental health professionals
- Discuss the misunderstandings and/or differences in professional identities influence the potential for effectively integrating care services
- Explain ways to improve cross-disciplinary understandings, particularly in the area of clarifying what chaplains can offer in mental health contexts
- List existing tools for identifying mental health and spiritual issues
- Formulate context-specific strategies to implement screenings in different settings
- Describe information exchange strategies and organize patient information according to the systematic outlines.

Providence Health Care (PHC) is accredited by the Washington State Medical Association to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Providence Health Care (PHC) designates this live educational activity for a maximum of 5.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should just claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This activity meets the criteria for up to 5.0 hours of Category 1 CME credit to satisfy the relicensure requirements of the Washington State Medical Quality Assurance Committee.